WELCOME TO SCU AND CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2020 AND 2021

On behalf of the Southwestern Christian University family, I extend a sincere welcome to the degree candidates of 2020 and 2021, friends, and family.

CONGRATULATIONS is in order to our graduating classes. You are exceptional representatives of the university. I am honored to serve as the 13th

President of this great institution, and I am especially proud to have the distinct honor to celebrate the achievements of this class. You have persevered through unprecedented challenges caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, weathering an incredible amount of changes and uncertainty as a result. Without question the faculty and administration has been dedicated to your academic and personal success during your time with the university. We are all very proud of the hard work, dedication, and spirit you have shown during these past few semesters.

Southwestern Christian University is truly a special place. We are a community of individuals dedicated to Scholarship, Spirit, and Service. We are committed to Christian higher education, the heritage of serving others, and building the Kingdom of God. As a Christian liberal arts university, we seek to provide an academic environment shaped by excellence and rooted in a Christian worldview and the Word of God. We are excited that another class of servant-leaders will carry the vision of SCU to a world that so desperately needs their influence.

I believe that the graduates of Southwestern are unique in that, regardless of their chosen degree or vocation, all of them have the opportunity to enrich the lives of those around them. Not only do they impact their communities and literally change the world, but they do so with compassion, boldness, honesty, humility, spiritual awareness, and integrity.

I want to give thanks to the parents, spouses, children, and friends of our graduates for your support, understanding, and sacrifices that you endured to see this day finally arrive. Your contributions have not gone unnoticed.

On this wonderful day, I, along with the faculty are proud of you. To every member of the 2020 and 2021 graduation classes, Congratulations! May you always feel at home at SCU!

He also is the Co-Founder of KIDWORKS along with his wife Jayme. Under Larry's leadership, UYWI has grown from a local, Southern California ministry, to a national organization operating in key U.S. cities with a combined network of over 20,000 emerging leaders. UYWI is recognized as one of the top urban leadership training organizations in the United States. After 25 years as the Founder of UYWI, Dr. Acosta passed the leadership torch to one of his mentees.

In his new role as Executive Director of City 2 City he is continuing to mentor leaders with plans to launch 100 multiethnic, Gospel centered churches planted or re-planted throughout Southern California by 2026. His knowledge of the challenges that confront the youth of the 21st century, undoubtedly makes Dr. Acosta a significant voice in addressing urban youth and Kingdom builders across the United States.

Larry serves on the Board of Trustees for Azusa Pacific University. Dr. Acosta graduated from Biola University, and Talbot School of Theology. He completed his doctorate in Leadership Development at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, California.

He is married to his lovely wife Jayme, and they have four young adult children-- Brock, Karis, Malia and Diego.

Chairman, Board of Trustees

Bishop Randell O. Drake

Bishop Randell O. Drake is the Conference Superintendent of New Horizons Ministries (NHM) of the International Pentecostal Holiness Church (IPHC). He has been an IPHC credentialed minister for over 42 years and is serving in his 5th term (19 years) as Conference Superintendent. Bishop Drake was selected as one of Jaycees' Outstanding Young Men of America and was a guest chaplain for the United States Senate (opening the Senate in prayer,) an honor afforded to only 24 guest chaplains each year.

Bishop Drake is a Shawnee High School graduate, has a Bachelor's Degree in Biblical Studies and a Master's Degree in Church Growth and Revitalization from Southwestern Christian University. He has been a guest on the Trinity Broadcasting Network, has recorded a musical album, is author of the book, "Just Sayin'," and has been a featured speaker at the IPHC National Pastors' Conference, numerous community Day of Prayer events, youth camps, baccalaureate services, and churches.

Since her start, she served in progressive roles from faculty to Academic Dean before she was appointed Vice President of Academic Affairs in fall 2017. An alumna of SCU with a BS in Biblical Studies, Dr. Hinkle went on to earn a Master of Arts in Theology from Southern Nazarene University. She then completed additional graduate work through the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary before completing her Ph.D. in Theology from the University of Wales, Trinity St. David in 2014. Her research and teaching are focused on hermeneutics, active learning theory, construction of childhood, and the Hebrew Bible. She is an active member of the International Pentecostal Holiness Church and the Society for Pentecostal Studies. She has publications with Wipf and Stock, several academic journal articles, and has presented papers for the Society for Pentecostal Studies, Society for Biblical Literature, Christian Adult Higher Education Association, and the Higher Learning Commission.

The Rotaract Officers are indicated in the degree candidates’ list with the ■ symbol. The International Rotary club recognizes the student officers at SCU by distinguishing them with blue and gold cords at the annual commencement ceremony.

Academic Regalia & Mace

The precise origins of the several parts of academic regalia still remain a matter of conjecture. However, the gowns and the hood were common at British universities before the 14th century. Academic regalia began to appear on campuses of the United States in the late 1890s. Since that time, regalia use has become standard for academic university functions.

The Cap. The mortarboard is flat and square and has become the universally accepted style for colleges and universities. The tam is a soft velvet cap and may be worn by those with a doctoral degree. The caps are black with a tassel. The standard tassel worn by the faculty is black, but those with doctoral degrees have the privilege of wearing gold tassels. Candidates for degrees at Southwestern Christian University have colored tassels which are black.

The Gown. The associate gown is gray with full sleeves and is worn closed. The black bachelor's gown has a long, pleated front with gathered fabric across the shoulders and back. The flowing sleeves are pointed at the fingertip and are knee length. The master's degree gown is worn closed, and the oblong sleeves, reaching well below the knees, are cut so that the forearm comes through a slit just above the elbow. The doctor's gown has broad, velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on full, round sleeves. This velvet trimming may be black or a color distinctive of the degree.

The Hood. The hood gives color and meaning to the academic costume. The silk lining of the hood reflects the official colors of the institution where the degree has been conferred. Southwestern Christian University's color is light blue. The hood is bordered with velvet of a specific width to designate the degree and a color to indicate the field of learning to which the degree pertains.

The Mace. The tradition of the academic mace originates during medieval times when a battle mace or royal scepter was carried at the head of a royal procession as symbol of power and often in protection of the king. In modern day, the tradition of the mace is embraced by universities around the world and symbolizes the authority and strength of the institution's academic ideals. Typically, when the academic mace is carried, it leads processions of formal academic and inaugural ceremonies where full regalia is worn.

At SCU, the honor and title of Academic Mace Carrier is bestowed upon the presiding Faculty Senate President who was elected by faculty colleagues at the end of the previous academic year. Today, the academic mace is being carried by Dr. John Martin. Dr. Martin has been a faculty member teaching since 2007.

University Information

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY

Southwestern Christian University was birthed in the fall of 1946 through the vision of the late Dr. R. O. Corvin, Rev. Oral Roberts, and others. Established first as Southwestern Bible College, its goals were to establish an educational institution and train people for leadership in the ministry. Located on the outskirts of Oklahoma City in the Abe Hale nightclub, the university grew to a bustling campus during the 1960s and 1970s.

In 1981, the university moved to its current location in Bethany, Oklahoma, and the name was changed to Southwestern College of Christian Ministries. On October 26, 2001 the school's name changed to Southwestern Christian University to more adequately define its vision: Southwestern relates to its heritage and past; Christian reflects its heart, purposes, and principles; and university focuses on the direction the school is heading and the progress made thus far. Throughout its 75-year history, Southwestern Christian University has remained dedicated to educating, equipping, and empowering leaders to impact generations with the gospel of Jesus Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit.

Propelled by the challenge to excel, the university builds on its hard-earned accomplishments. Attempting to relate the great intellectual traditions to the unchanging and authoritative gospel of Christ, the university is committed to integrating faith, learning, and living. Southwestern Christian University has embarked on a journey of qualitative and quantitative growth that will see a broadening and deepening of academic offerings.

The university continues to educate servant leaders with the unchanging message of Jesus Christ, leading them toward spiritual integrity, personal maturity, and sensitivity to the needs of an ever-changing world.
